 - ESMA: “The ultimate objective of supervisory convergence is to ensure that market practices meet the required standards and support the well-known regulatory objectives. However, I do not consider this an exclusive role for regulators. In that context, I should mention that I very much support the recently published Foreign Exchange Global Code of Conduct” (Steven Maijor, Speech Looking to the Future, 7 June)
 - FCA: “We expect firms, Senior Managers, certified individuals and other relevant persons to take responsibility for and be able to demonstrate their own adherence with standards of market conduct. Our supervision of the SMCR rules supports this.”

B1) Adherence: Central Banks communication

ECC* and GEM Governors provided adherence guidance to the Code in May 2017

- Central banks are strongly committed to supporting and promoting adherence to the Code. They confirm that they are committed to adhering to the principles of the Code and will expect the same of their regular FX counterparties, except where this would inhibit the discharge of their policy functions. Additionally, members of central bank sponsored foreign exchange committees will be expected to adhere to the Code.

Rationale

- Receive more fair, transparent and effective execution from counterparties that adhere to the Code
- Reinforce good practices among market participants

* Economic Consultative Committee

 Global Economy Meeting

B1) Adherence: Central Bank Communication

ESCB Central Banks welcome the publication of Foreign Exchange Global Code of Conduct

*The ESCB central banks are strongly committed to supporting and promoting adherence to the Code in their jurisdictions, which together play a key role in the global FX market. To that end, they are committed to adhering to the principles of the Code when acting as FX market participants and likewise expect their regular FX trading counterparties to adhere to the Code.

The ESCB central banks also encourage FX market participants in their jurisdictions to evolve their practices in such a way that they are consistent with the principles of the Code and to demonstrate their commitment by endorsing the Statement of Commitment annexed to the Code. The ESCB central banks look forward to witnessing the evolution of practices accordingly.
